[Docket No. 90126-9026]

Notice of Establishment and Solicitation for Board Members for the Biotechnology Institute

Agency: Patent and Trademark Office, Commerce
Action: Notice of establishment of Biotechnology Institute and solicitation for Board Members for the Institute.
Summary: Biotechnology is a rapidly emerging field of endeavor. As a consequence, the Patent and Trademark Office is experiencing a significant growth in patent application filing activity in this and related arts. The immense volume of filing and newness of the technology have created problems for the Patent and Trademark Office in the assimilation of large numbers of newly hired examiners and the retrieval and acquisition of the most pertinent prior art, primarily non-patent literature.

In response to the challenge created by this activity, the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Donald J. Quigg, is establishing a Biotechnolgy Institute which will be a cooperative effort of the PTO, other Government agencies and the private sector. The purpose of this Institute is to provide examiners with better resources to keep current in the legal and technological issues involved in biotechnology patent examination. Working with trade and bar associations, academia, and other Government agencies, the PTO will, through the establishment of this Institute, provide state-of-the-art knowledge to examiners through an enhanced training program.

In order to accomplish this goal the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner has decided to set up a board of interested people from the Government, academia and trade and bar associations. The purpose of this Board is to assist the PTO in identifying technology trends and training expertise for the Institute.
Addresses: Parties interested in having representatives on this Board should address their name request to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks; Washington, D.C. 20231; Attention: John E. Kittle, Director, Group 180 by Mar. 31, 1989. The first meeting of the Board will be held on Apr. 18, 1989, at 10:00 a.m. in Room 912, on the 9th floor of Crystal Park, Bldg. 2, located at 2121 Crystal Dr., Arlington, Va.
For Further Information Contact: John E. Kittle, Director, Group 180, by telephone at (703) 557-3637, or by mail to his attention and addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Washington, D.C. 20231.
Supplementary Information: Biotechnology is a rapidly emerging field of endeavor. As a consequence, the Patent and Trademark Office is experiencing a significant growth in patent application filing activity in this and related arts. The immense volume of filings and unusually rapid development of the technology have created problems for the Patent and Trademark Office in the assimilation of large numbers of newly hired examiners and the retrieval and acquisition of the most pertinent prior art, primarily non-patent literature.

In response to the challenges created by this activity, the Assistant Secretary and Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks implemented a 13-point plan to reduce pendency and improve examination quality in the Biotechnology area. One of the first measures undertaken in his plan was the formation of a new patent examining group, Group 180, which consolidated into a single group all of the various arts which comprise biotechnology. To keep pace with the patent activity in this area, large numbers of new examiners have and will be hired into the new group. Further, other chemical examining groups will help train new examiners for the new group. These examiners, after their training period, will be reassigned to the new group. In addition, specifically identified experienced examiners from other chemical examining groups will be retrained to provide assistance in examining biotechnology inventions.

Six points in the "13-point plan" cover training and access to search tools needed to examine biotechnology inventions in an effective and efficient manner. To address these needs in a systematic way, a Biotechnology Institute will be created. The purpose of the Institute will be to enhance the quality of the patent examination process in Biotechnology.

The goals of the Biotechnology Institute will be:

(1) education of examiners in the technical and legal aspects of examining biotechnology inventions;
(2) improvement of internal and external communication of technical and legal information between the examining corps and the public; and
(3) development of search tools which will improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the patent examination process in biotechnology

Major participants in the program from within the Patent and Trademark Office are the Patent Academy, which serves as the parent organization responsible for coordinating the diverse activities of the Biotechnology Institute; the Scientific Library, which will identify, obtain and catalogue literature relevant to the Biotechnolody examiners' needs; and Group 180, which will provide not only examiners for the education program, but will also provide speakers/educators in specific fields of biotechnology and the law.

Working through trade and bar associations, other Government agencies and academia, the PTO will seek the assistance from the private sector in enhancing examiner education. Help will be sought to obtain state-of-the-art understanding in the biotechnology field.

Currently the Patent Academy provides formal examiner training in the legal, procedural, technical and search areas to all new and experienced examiners. The examiner training programs under the auspices of the Patent Academy are shown below:

1. The Patent Academy, a 4-phased program, provides new examiners with over 200 hours of mandatory formal training in patent law, practice and procedure during the first year of service.
2. The Law School Tuition Assistance program enables examiners interested in attending law school to receive financial assistance for tuition and books for authorized job-related courses taken in pursuit of a law degree.
3. Tuition assistance for technical courses at local universities is available for examiners to keep up with state-of-the-art graduate level courses in their technologies.
4. Three in-house law courses are provided to examiners after they complete the Patent Academy. The three courses taught at the Patent Academy facilities are: Patent Law, Legal Methods and Evidence.
5. In-house technical courses are also provided through live presentations by outside contractors and via use of videotaped courses facilitated by in-house technical experts.
6. Automated Patent System training is provided to all examiners in Text Search and, in the future, Image Search and Retrieval.
7. Commerical Database training is provided for examiners in specialized arts.
8. Guest speakers in legal and technical areas provide short subject presentations within the framework of the legal lecture series and the Patent and Trademark Office Society educational program.

The Biotechnology Institute will build upon these current structures to increase legal and technical knowledge among the biotechnology examiners.

PARTICIPANTS:

Participants in the training aspects of the Institute will be drawn from Group 180 and selected individuals from the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences and the Office of Quality Review. In selected instances, trainees may be drawn from other examining groups. Supervisors will develop an individual training plan for each of their examiners that takes into consideration the education, background and experience of the individual in comparison to specific work needs. In this way, individual developmental needs will be identified so that appropriate training can be strategically planned for succeeding years. General needs of all the examiners will also be addresed.

Selection for training opportunities will be determined by giving priority to needs identified in the individual training plans and to general technical and legal update needs.

PROGRAM SCOPE:

The Biotechnology Institute will include adaptations of current Academy programs and PTO training policy and the introduction of intensive legal and technology training in the biotechnology area. The following are adaptations of current PTO training policy and proposed new programs for which we would like to have industry and other outside assistance.

1. An expanded Patent Examiner Initial Training (PEIT) Program.

   PEIT is the initial first two weeks of formal training in examination practice and procedure given to all new examiners. This program wil be augmented to meet the specific initial needs of biotechnology examiners.
2. A specifically designed patent law class, taught by an attorney with a biotechnology background, will be presented to all new biotechnolgy patent examiners between phase II and III of the Patent Academy, (3-6 months after coming on board). This course will focus on special issues and fact situations arising in the examination of patent applications in this field.
3. Text search, training in the Automated Patent System (APS) will be given within a few weeks after completing the PEIT. Additionally, biotechnology examiners will be given access to early training on biotechnolgy related commerical databases.
4. The examiners in Group 180 will continue to conduct weekly, lunchtime training sessions. This program offers an opportunity for examiners to share with each other their technical and legal knowledge needed in the examination of biotechnology patent applications.
5. Seminars and lectures will be provided on technical and legal issues through a cooperative effort of the PTO with other Government agencies and industry associations.
6. A week-long transition program will be conducted for experienced patent examiners transferring into the biotechnology area through a cooperative effort with other Government agencies and industry associations.
7. A one-day seminar dealing with the realities of biotechnology research will be presented through a cooperative effort with other Government agencies and industry associations.
8. A one-day seminar will be conducted each year, to update examiners on significant technological advances which occurred during the year through a cooperative effort with other Government agencies and industry associations.
9. Assistance will be provided to the PTO by outside sources to identify facilities to be visited, and points of contact, that would be most beneficial for examiners in arranging trips under the Examiner Education Program.
10. Round Table discussions with members of bar associations will continue to ensure that general biotechnology legal and practice issues of mutual concern are discussed.

The Institute, a cooperative effort of Government and bar and trade associations, will be established to provide examiners with the necessary resources to keep current on law and technology. Government agencies and trade associations such as the Industrial Biotechnology Association, Association of Biotechnolgy Companies, the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, the Intellectual Property Owners, American Society of Microbiologists, American Association for Advancement of Science, American Chemical Society and other associations in the biotechnology field, and bar associations such as American Intellectual Property Law Association, American Bar Association, etc., will be invited to provide the technical and legal resources needed to design and present training courses and provide the PTO with general reference materials. These associations will provide the authorities in the field who will assist with the training of biotechnology patent examiners. The Industrial Biotechnology Association has already offered to help with the Institute.

A board of association, Government and academic representatives will assist the PTO in the identification of Institute needs and provide resources for the program implementation of this Institute. The board will initially meet in the near future. The Institute will utilize the board to identify future technological trends where training will be needed, identify sources of technical and legal expertise and effectuate the cooperation necessary to provide the teaching and other assistance required.

A notice will be published in the Federal Register inviting academic and bar and trade associations support the Institute. The involvement of bar and industry groups will be strictly limited to assistance in identifying needs, identifying and providing training expertise, helping contact and provide teaching resources and donations of general reference materials. No contacts with the private sector will involve patent applications or patents or their processing in any way. General policy issues will not be resolved or decided in the Institute program.

NOTICE OF AUTOMATED PATENT SYSTEM (APS) TEXT SEARCH TRAINING FOR PUBLIC USERS

In accordance with the Patent and Trademark Office's (PTO) desire to further the interests of technology and innovation, the capability of searching patents in text form which is now available to PTO examiners will be made available to the public.

Text training classes similar to those offered to the PTO examiners will be made available to the public. These classes will consist of both traditional classroom instruction and "hands on" practice using APS terminals. All major capabilities of the Automated Patent System's Text Search features will be covered. Classes will be held at the PTO located in Arlington, Virginia.

These classes will be offered free to the public. The classes will be divided into four sessions of three and one-half hours each. Space in each weekly session will be limited to 10 persons. A lottery-type drawing will be held to determine specific class assignments.

All completed applications received on or before March 21, 1989 will be included in the first lottery for classes beginning March 27, 1989. Applications received after March 21, 1989, and before April 28, 1989 will be included in a second lottery for class assignments. Invitations to apply for subsequent lotteries will be posted periodically as demanded requires.

An application form for text search training must include all information shown below.

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents Available for Public Use in Patent Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent Depository Libraries (PDLs), receive current issues of U.S. Patents and maintain collections of earlier-issued patents. The scope of these collections varies from library to library, ranging from patents of only recent years to all or most of the patents issued since 1790.

These patent collections, which are organized in patent number sequence, are available for use by the public free of charge. Each of the PDLs, in addition, offers supplemental reference publications of the U.S. Patent Classification System, including the Manual of Classification, Index to the U.S. Patent Classification, Classification Definitions, and provides technical staff assistance in their use to aid the public, in gaining effective access to information contained in patents. CASSIS (Classification And Search Support Information System), which provides direct, on-line access to Patent and Trademark Office data, is available at all PDLs. Facilities for making paper copies of patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generally provided for a fee.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent collec patents from either microfilm or paper collections are generallcontemplating use of the patents at a particular library is advised to contact that library, in advance, about its collection and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
